DETROIT (AP)—American Motors Corp. started the auto industry Friday by offering the United Auto Workers Union a profit-sharing wage plan.

The move caught the union by surprise although AMC had hinted three weeks ago it was thinking about sharing profits with workers. It also apparently caught AMC's Big Three competitors—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—off guard. They are known to be opposed to profit sharing but they had no immediate comment. Their bargaining with the union is at present bogged down in arguing over second-

Peer Loses Seat In Commons

LONDON (AP)—Anthony Wedgwood Benn was found guilty Friday of being a peer of the realm, and was disqualified by a special election court from taking his seat in the House of Commons.

The decision ended a determined legal fight by the 36-year-old Laborite, a rising star in the party's ranks until his father died last November and left him the title of Viscount Stansgate.

Benn refused to accept the title and he booted upstairs to the rarefied air of the House of Lords, where the talk is generally dull. The House of Commons is where Britain makes its political decisions.

To Renounce

Benn's Labor party colleagues are planning to introduce a measure in Commons that would permit reluctant peers to renounce their titles. But the Conservative majority feels that allowing peers to bow out of the chamber and return to the rough and tumble in the Commons is not the best way to increase the noble lords' already declining prestige. The Conservatives oppose the Laborites' idea, and they have the votes to prevail.

Benn has no appeal or any other recourse in the courts from the ruling by the two-man election court. The court got the case after the House of Commons declared Benn's seat in the Bristol Southeast District vacant when his father died. Benn had held it since 1950.

An election was ordered to fill the vacancy, but Benn persuaded the local Labor party organization to name him as its candidate against the Conservative party choice, Malcolm St. Clair. Benn won by a 2-1 margin.

St. Clair then sued to have himself declared the winner, on the grounds that Benn, as a peer, was not qualified to run or to serve.

Said St. Clair: "I feel very sorry for Mr. Benn. I think he is perfectly sincere in his wish to remain in the House of Commons. I could find myself in the same position one day."

And indeed he could. St. Clair is heir to the title of Lord Sinclair, now held by his Scottish cousin, a 44-year-old bachelor.

Worldwide TV Broadcasts

Private Industry Enters Satellite Relay Business

WASHINGTON (AP)—An agreement signed Friday will let private industry into the communications satellite business next year for experiments which could lead ultimately to worldwide television broadcasts.

The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. is to build four test satellites, two or more of which will be launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

AT&T will reimburse NASA—at an estimated $6 million for each launch—for the Thor-Delta rockets which will be used, and for other expenses attendant on the launching and tracking. AT&T did not estimate how much it will spend developing the satellites.

Agreement Signed

The agreement was signed by Robert C. Seamans Jr., associate administrator for NASA, and Frederick R. Kappel, AT&T president.

In a news conference after the signing, Seamans noted that NASA already has a contract with Radio Corp. of America to build a somewhat similar satellite and said this dual, competitive effort should greatly enhance the development of practical space communications.

The AT&T satellites are to be spherical and weigh about 125 pounds. The schedule calls for launches in April and October. If the spares are not needed at those times, there may be other launches in June and December. The orbits around the earth are to range between altitudes of 600 and 3,000 miles.

AT&T stations at Holmdel, N.J., and Rumford, Maine, will use the satellites for experiments in TV, phone, radio and telegraph communications. Signals will be beamed to the satellites at 6300 megacycles and the satellites will transmit on 4170 megacycles.

The phone company is to report all its experimental data to NASA and the space agency will make this information available to the world scientific community.

Seamans said also the government will have a royalty license on any inventions AT&T develops as a result of the experiments. The government will have the right to grant licenses to other companies to use these inventions on whatever terms are felt best to encourage building a practical, worldwide satellite communications system.

Spectacular Field

While the satellites are expected to speed the flow of all sorts of electronic communications, the potential in the TV field is the most spectacular. At present, simultaneous telecasts are limited in scope by the range of land lines, cables and microwave systems with long-range, transoceanic broadcasts difficult and really worldwide ones impossible.

With the department of techniques to relay signals by bouncing them from satellites in space, it is expected that truly worldwide telecasts will become technically and economically feasible.

Workers Cut Cables By Mistake; Snarl Service

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Workers digging holes accidentally cut into long-distance communication cables near here Friday and snarled telephone and teletype service over a large section of the nation.

A drilling rig, boring holes for a power company's utility poles, churned into three American Telephone & Telegraph Co. cables at Westford, 15 miles north of Pittsburgh.

The break knocked out about 4,600 circuits, including 3,700 carried by a coaxial cable. Long distance telephone service was disrupted from Pittsburgh as far west as Chicago.

The main news wire of the Associated Press as well as an AP regional circuit were out of operation for over an hour. Also knocked out temporarily was the AP's wirephoto network in the Midwest. United Press International also reported disrupted service.

A. T. & T. put these circuits as well as long-distance telephone service back into operation by re-routing the circuits over other cables of its vast, national network.

But many other lines remained out of service throughout the day. The break occurred about 8:45 a.m. (EDT): A. T. & T. said 75 per cent of the broken circuits had been rerouted by 11 a.m.

Eight A. T. & T. crews went to work to repair the break. The City of Butler, 30 miles north of Pittsburgh, was particularly hard-hit by the break. Only emergency phone calls were permitted into or out of the city, and these had to be rerouted.

France Boycotts U.N. Debate On Bizerte Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—France boycotted Friday the U.N. Security Council debate on the Bizerte crisis.

But the French snub failed to halt council debate in which Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld declared he had received evidence in Tunisia that France had violated the cease-fire ordered by the council last Saturday, and assumed functions on Tunisian soil "normally reserved to a sovereign state."

The council adjourned at 7:25 p.m. shortly after the United Arab Republic, Ceylon and Liberia introduced a resolution calling on France to comply immediately with all provisions of the cease-fire resolution approved on Saturday.

The council decided to defer any vote on the Asian-African move until Saturday after British Ambassador Sir Alec Douglas-Home declared he had received evidence in Tunisia that France had violated the cease-fire ordered by the council last Saturday, and assumed functions on Tunisian soil "normally reserved to a sovereign state."

Without Dissent

Anti-Crime Bills Passed By Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate passed without dissent Friday six companion bills to arm the government with new powers to strike at organized gambling and underworld syndicates.

The measures, which now go to the House, were requested by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy. He watched from the Senate gallery while some of them were passed.

One of the bills would make it a felony punishable by a $10,000 fine or five years' imprisonment to travel across a state line or use the mails to engage in or further racketeering enterprises.

Among the unlawful activities specifically covered are gambling, narcotics, prostitution, extortion, bribery, and the sale of liquor on which a federal excise tax has not been paid.

Another Bill

Another bill bans the shipment in interstate commerce of gambling machines and devices other than pinball and other betting equipment used at licensed gambling establishments like race tracks where gambling is legal under state laws.

Also exempted are pinball machines that are not designed primarily for use in connection with gambling.

The Senate took up these two bills after it earlier had passed four other measures that would:

1. Aim a blow at organized gambling chief source of income for the mobs, by declaring it a federal crime to use telephone or telegraph to transmit gambling information—mainly race results, odds and bets—across state lines. It would exempt the normal transmission of racing or other sporting news by newspapers and news services.

Violations would be punishable by up to two years in prison and $10,000 fine.

2. Declare it a federal felony to transport gambling paraphernalia, such as tickets or slips for illegal handbook betting, wagering pools and numbers rackets. The bill carries penalties up to five years in prison and $10,000 fine.

3. Tighten federal obstruction-of-justice laws, to punish racketeers or others who use violence or coercion to prevent witnesses from giving information to the Justice or Treasury departments. Penalties: up to five years in prison and $5,000 fine.

4. Allow grants of immunity from prosecution to Fifth Amendment witnesses in trials or grand jury investigations of labor racketeering. Kennedy contends witnesses often have falsely contended their answers might tend to incriminate them, thus avoiding testimony against others. Refusal to testify after immunity had been granted would subject the offender to punishment for contempt of court.

Mrs. Kennedy Celebrates 32d Birthday

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy returned to Friday night—for the fifth weekend in a row—to join his wife in celebrating her 32nd birthday.

Kennedy's big Air Force jet landed at Otis Air Force Base in Falmouth at 6:17 p.m. after a one-hour flight from Washington.

An Army helicopter flew the Chief Executive to the side yard of his big white summer place, overlooking Nantucket Sound.

Mrs. Kennedy and the children, 3½-year-old Caroline and John Jr., 8 months, are spending the summer there.

Caroline and young Kennedy cousins joined the private birthday celebration. But before the President left Washington, the White House said the candles on the cake would not be lighted until Kennedy arrived.

A crowd of about 400 applauded as Kennedy walked down the ramp from his jet to the waiting helicopter.

Here are some of the arguments against any invitation from the West:

1. Soviet Premier Khrushchev has made proposals to change the present situation in Berlin and Germany. The Western powers are satisfied to leave things as they are. If Khrushchev still wants to make changes, it's up to him to make the next move.

2. A call for talks from the West might be misinterpreted in Moscow as a weakness.

Face Saving

3. The longer Khrushchev is kept waiting, the more likely he is to offer acceptable proposals. He needs at least some face-saving agreement with the West by October to demonstrate to the Communist party congress in Moscow at that time that his ideas of "peaceful coexistence" pay off and Communist advances can be made without war.

These are the arguments in favor of an invitation from the West:

1. No matter whose move it is technically, Khrushchev has started on a dangerous course. Every step should be taken to stop him—diplomatically as well as militarily.

2. It could win support for the West among neutral and uncommitted nations to make a positive move for negotiations.

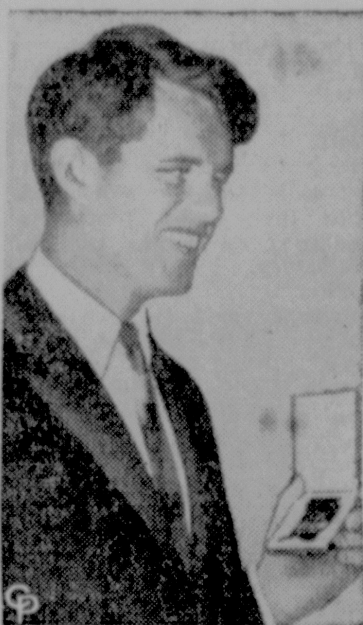

3. Trying to force Khrushchev's hand is a dangerous bit of brinkmanship that might prompt him to do something rash.

Producer And Solon Differ On Crime TV

WASHINGTON (AP)—The producer of a new television show Friday, testifying, "We are proud of this forthcoming series." But Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., described it as a program with excessive violence.

The producer, Thomas J. McDermott, said the series, "Target: The Corrupters," will bring to television, "The crusading material which has until now only appeared for the most part in magazines and newspapers."

But Dodd, chairman of the Senate subcommittee on juvenile delinquency, pointed to the series as an example of what he called television's refusal to clean up its

Cohen Enters Alcatraz

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mickey Cohen entered grim Alcatraz Prison at San Francisco Friday to begin serving a 15-year term for income tax evasion.

The Federal Bureau of Prisons announced that Cohen had been transferred from the county jail at Los Angeles to the federal prison in San Francisco Bay.

Federal officers who took Cohen from the county jail had declined to say where they were taking him.

The onetime hookie, convicted recently of income tax evasion for the second time, has an appeal on file.

He was convicted on eight counts last July 1. In addition to the prison term he drew a $30,000 fine.

Cohen had previously served 3½ years at McNeil Island Federal Prison in Washington.

Drunk Driving Test Evidence

HARRISBURG (AP)—Legislation making chemical tests for drunken driving admissible as court evidence was signed into law Friday by Gov. Lawrence.

Lawrence firmly convinced that the use of chemical testing can save thousands of lives in the years to come, the governor said in signing the measure.

"In the past our law enforcement agencies have been severely hampered, in most counties, in trying to prosecute drunken drivers because existing laws were not explicit on the admissibility of such evidence in court," he said.

Bandits Seize $7,244 Payroll

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Two bandits seized a payroll of $7,244 Friday after using their auto to force the payroll messenger's station wagon to a curb.

The holdup men got the weekly wages of 150 workers at the Central Association of the Miraculous Medal.

They stopped messenger James J. Devine, 64, within four blocks of completing his trip from the bank back to the association building.

Manpower Vote Is 75-0; Funds Okayed By 81-0

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate gave prompt and solid backing Friday night to President Kennedy's request for an emergency buildup of military strength.

In rapid succession, the Senate passed two bills authorizing the President to call up to 250,000 reservists to active duty and to spend $98,570,000 for more aircraft, missiles and ships.

In addition the Defense Department would be authorized to increase the regular armed forces by 217,000 men. Most of these—125,000—would go into the Army.

The reserve call-up bill was passed without a proposed "jump sum incentive payment" sought by Sen. Francis Case, R-S.D., for those volunteering for 12 months duty. Case's amendment also proposed extra pay for all called up under the program whether they volunteered or not.

It was shouted down. Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., floor manager for the bill, said the proposal would "clutter up the bill and would be costly and cumbersome."

Police Nab Area AWOL Guardsman

Before taking up the manpower bill the Senate voted 81 to 0 to give Kennedy the extra funds he asked to build up the country's non-nuclear forces.

The vote on the reserve call-up was 75-0.

The unanimous vote authorizing $98,570,000 for a quick delivery of new missiles, ships and planes followed a statement by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., that the Western world must arm itself to the point where "if some mad man insists upon war, we can destroy him."

A Senate Appropriations subcommittee was reported meanwhile to have boosted the regular defense appropriations bill to approximately $47 billion. Members said the group added about $500 million more than Kennedy sought, mainly for an additional wing of long range bombers.

The extra funds were in addition to the $3.5-billion emergency authorization Kennedy asked this week as a result of the mounting Berlin crisis.

Referring to the proposed buildup of non-nuclear forces, Russell told the Senate:

Mixed Weapons

"I don't think we should give any impression" that the United States would limit itself to a conventional weapons defense.

"We once said we wouldn't be the first to use the atomic bomb," Russell said, and that gives the Russians an advantage.

Russell said the new buildup will "give us a mix" of weapons and added:

"I've never advocated laying aside any weapon we might need to defend the security of the United States."

Several senators demanded a greater effort by the country's European allies, but Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican floor leader, said:

"Let's show Khrushchev we mean business by passing this by a unanimous vote."

By way of rounding out the unity theme, it was announced after the 81-0 vote that all 19 absentee senators were in favor of the bill.

Criticism of what they called poor dragging by the Allies came from Sens. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., John Stennis, D-Miss., and Russell.

LUGRIN, France (AP)—French-Algerian peace talks Friday night broke down again—at least for the time being—on the shifting sands of the delicate Sahara problem.

Thomas, the Realist

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—John 11:15-16; 14:3-6; 20:24-29; Acts 1:13.

Christ has told His disciples that He is the way to God. Before His death He says He is going to prepare a place for them, and that they know the way to His destination. Thomas complains that he has no idea where Christ is going, so how should he know the way?—John 14:3-6.

After Christ's resurrection He appears before the disciples, but Thomas is not present. The others seek him out and tell their glad tidings. Thomas, however, refuses to believe in Christ's resurrection unless he can see Him and touch Him for himself. —John 20:24-26.

A week after Easter Christ again appears in the midst of His disciples, including Thomas. He invites Thomas to touch His wounds, to "reach hither (his) hand, and put it into (His) side," to see for himself. "And he was not faithless, but believing."—John 20:26-27.

Thomas' doubts are conquered; "My Lord and my God," he exclaims. Jesus says to him, "Thomas, because thou hast seen Me, thou hast believed; blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed."—John 20:28-29.

GOLDEN TEXT—John 20:29.

Thomas, The Realist

The reference from Acts in this lesson can be dismissed briefly, as it tells us only one thing about Thomas—that the former doubter is continuing his discipleship with full fervor—a fact which must surely be concluded from the episode in John 20.

Everything else we know of Thomas comes from the three brief passages cited from John. We are introduced to him in 11:16.

The meaning of Didymus is "twin." It is just possible that the psychological complexities of being a twin have contributed to Thomas' skeptical nature.

When the disciples utter some remonstrance about Christ's returning to Judea, since that is where He was so recently stoned, He gives a very enigmatic reply.

One interpretation is that because He walks in the daylight of the Lord's way, or does God's bidding, stones or other dangers cannot hurt Him during His allotted time on earth (12 hours). Only he who is not Godlike need fear danger, "because there is no light in him."

Notice that Christ says that He is glad for the disciples' sake that He did not get to Bethany in time to save Lazarus, because now He will have the opportunity to give them proof of His holiness by raising Lazarus. This would indicate that Thomas had not been the only doubtful one heretofore.

More unique than doubt in Thomas' nature was pessimism and cynicism. Three times Christ states that He will go to Judea, and two of these times (verses 7 and 15) indicate that His disciples shall accompany Him. Is Thomas so courageous, then, when he volunteers that they will go?

Yes and no; for it seems as if he has been brooding quietly over their peril and has assumed the worst—death. Despite this gloomy conclusion he is willing to follow Christ.

When the time comes, all Christ's disciples, including Thomas, desert Him in the face of death. (Matthew 26:56).

Thomas' gloomy disposition reveals itself again in John 14:3-6. Christ has previously told His disciples that He is "the way" to the place He is going—Heaven. He reminds them of this, but indirectly.

Thomas' rejoinder could be translated, in today's terminology, "How should WE know?" In an all-too-familiar tone of lazy criticism—"An excuse for ignorance," as A. B. Bruce terms it ("Peloubet's Select Notes"). Christ, instead of being angry, explains fully and directly what He means—He is the way to God, the way to life itself.

In chapter 20 we see that Thomas is the only one missing, other than Judas, from the meeting of the disciples on Easter Sunday.

Why? Probably, as J. D. Jones suggests ("Peloubet's Select Notes"), because he has retreated into an isolated and almost prideful grief—not only over Christ's death but over his own embarrassed disappointment at having partaken in an apparently ill-fated cause. Around his sensitivity, Thomas had built a hard shell, and could not even share his grief.

The disciples, however, full of joy of the Holy Spirit, seek him out in the intervening week to tell him of Christ's rising. Thomas, unwilling to "be taken in again," says, in effect, that they really have to prove it to him.

The fact that he mentions Christ's wounds indicates how deeply he felt, within his shell, the awful experience of the crucifixion.

Jehovah's Witnesses To Meet In Allentown

The three-day circuit assembly of Jehovah's witnesses, August 4-6, at the Agricultural Building, Allentown Fair Grounds, will hear James A. Hinderer. He is district supervisor from the world headquarters of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, Inc., at Brooklyn, New York.

Hinderer has been active in the ministry since 1942 and has been in the full-time service since April of 1951. A native of Ohio and a graduate of the 30th class of the Watchtower Bible training school at South Lansing, New York, he has had extensive experience in circuit supervisory work in Ohio, New Jersey and Maryland and has served on convention programs in Pittsburgh, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Washington.

Hinderer will preside over a model ministry school on Friday which will be conducted by delegates representing the seven congregations that comprise Pennsylvania Circuit No. 2.

The sessions, which will begin on Friday at 6:45 p.m., will be climaxed Sunday at 3 p.m. when Hinderer will address an estimated 2,000 persons.

Daily Record Joins Nation Hymn Poll

WHAT IS America's favorite hymn?

The Daily Record today joins Christian Herald, the nation's largest interdenominational Protestant magazine, and newspapers throughout the country, in a definitive survey to determine the hymns America loves best.

A preliminary hymn poll, conducted last year, ended in a controversy between churchgoers who favor "The Old Rugged Cross" and others who named the content, oratory gospel song, "How Great Thou Art." Our survey aims at settling the dispute.

The National Newspapers Hymn Poll is open to Americans of all denominations. Every reader of The Daily Record is invited to write the name of his favorite hymn or gospel song on the ballot printed with this article.

Our local hymn poll is an important part of the nationwide survey. The National Newspapers Hymn Poll is being conducted by newspapers in cities of all sizes in every state. Its purpose is to find out which hymns Record readers (and Americans everywhere) enjoy singing and hearing—as well as to encourage hymn singing in homes and churches throughout the country.

Hymn singing has been a dynamic force for American family and community strength since colonial days. For some years after the end of World War II, however, interest in hymn singing declined. But as a result of Bill McVey's Christian Herald Hymn Revival Program, 1960 saw a tremendous revival of hymn singing in America.

Under the direction of Rev. Daniel A. Poling, editor of Christian Herald, hymn singing with Bill McVey have been held in many states, attracting audiences as large as 6,500 people.

The Daily Record and Christian Herald believe the family that sings together lives in greater harmony. Hymns selected by readers of the Record and readers of newspapers, across the country in the National Newspapers Hymn Poll will be the religious songs that have had the greatest personal meaning to them since childhood.

Last year McVey and Christian Herald conducted a survey of more than 30,000 people to determine their interest in hymn singing in America. Many newspapers printed the results and editors of Christian Herald magazine received thousands of letters from churchgoers and ministers who expressed renewed faith in hymn singing as a vital force for bringing families closer together and closer to God.

But a controversy arose shortly after the results were printed.

Many people felt the old hymns best expressed their faith and directly portrayed the great stories of the Bible. Others believed the newer gospel songs with their strong melodies had greater appeal to modern American churchgoers.

This controversy was reflected in the popularity of "The Old Rugged Cross" and "How Great Thou Art." "The Old Rugged Cross," a hymn that vividly describes how the cross has been the symbol of brotherhood and love for ages, ranked first. "How Great Thou Art," a gospel song praising God's power, was selected by many church groups as better suited to the tempo of our times.

Our National Newspapers Hymn Poll should end this dispute and determine which hymns have the most meaning for American churchgoers today.

Each vote submitted in the coast-to-coast survey will be tabulated by Audience Analysts, Inc., a leading independent research organization. The Daily Record will publish a list of favorites in this area and compare them with national results.

Please use pencil or ball-point pen to print the name of your favorite hymn on the ballot. Mail it today so your vote is sure to be counted.

Revival Meetings

A FELLOWSHIP revival will be held the entire week starting Sunday in the Bethel A. M. E. Church, Stroudsburg.

The meetings will be in charge of Rev. Frank Davis.

Gnarled, stunted bristlecone pines in California's White Mountains began thrusting roots into rocky crevices more than 4,000 years ago.

Something to think about . . . If there are intelligent creatures on some other planet, your son and mine may one day meet them!

What sort of people would you hope these "Martians" to be?

Believers in God . . . or atheists?

Men and women with spiritual ideals . . . or materialists of the Kremlin vintage?

Warm-hearted, friendly, with a Christian sense of values . . . or ruthless, indifferent, dedicated only to self?

WOULDN'T IT BE HEARTENING to find on that planet a world of churches . . . of faith . . . of folks at worship and at work for the Truth revealed to them by God?

Something to think about . . . Next Sunday! In this world! Which isn't yet all we want Mars to be!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and ready your Bible daily.

American People, Allies United Behind Kennedy

America—a nation that hates war but never shuns one when its security is threatened—stands solidly behind its President and the measures he outlined this week to meet the Communist threat in Berlin.

Mr. Kennedy calmly but unmissakenly spelled out this country's position in the Berlin crisis and put Soviet Premier Khrushchev on notice that the United States means business when it says "We cannot and will not permit the Communists to drive us out of Berlin, either gradually or by force."

In other words, if Russia chooses to make its stand for world domination in Berlin, we will accept the challenge by going to war to protect that vital bastion of freedom, that crack in the Iron Curtain.

Our determination to resist further pressures from the Communist world was stated by the President in a series of measures designed to put America on a war-preparedness footing, based on a build-up of non-nuclear capability.

Our defense budget, already exceeding $44 billion, will be increased another $3.5 billion; our military manpower will be raised 200,000 men and the President will have authority to call up 250,000 reservists and to extend enlistments of essential personnel. As matters now stand, these are only proposals, but Congress is expected to act speedily on Mr. Kennedy's requests.

In restating this nation's determination to honor its commitments in West Berlin, the President had the advance pledge that Great Britain, France and our other NATO allies would stand firmly with us in our actions.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Barry Goldwater

Great political leaders are more likely to emerge in the United States Senate than in administrative offices. Few have achieved the distinction of primary leadership that Barry Goldwater has so swiftly and surely earned.

Barry Goldwater ran against the tide, but the tide turned for him. He pronounced himself to be a Conservative when that was a dirty word in politics. Whereas such men as Senator Joe McCarthy never asserted an ideological position, except opposition to Communism, Goldwater presents a positive program of conservative thinking.

I have heard at least two persons accused of ghost-writing his book. I should imagine that Barry Goldwater did make the mistake of calling upon a friend to correct the punctuation or the paragraphing. It is always wrong to employ ghost-writers, but knowing Goldwater, I can say that he discusses his position more ably than he has written it.

He knows what he believes to be true and no one who is said to be his ghost-writer as he is, he can therefore skip such trivia as whether he did not employ a ghost-writer for his book. Barry Goldwater is the first conservative politician who has cracked the hard crust of collegiate liberalism.

He has not only spoken on an extraordinarily large number of campuses but he has established an image for leadership, so that a large number of young people have organized themselves into associations which accept the leadership of Goldwater, politically and sociologically.

Even Robert A. Taft did not succeed in this, he not having had the warm personality which appeals to youth.

The significance of Barry Goldwater politically is that he has a program which is a novelty in American politics where the tendency is to be expedient. Goldwater avoids the expedient and adheres to principle — his own statement of principle, which is gaining in strength, especially in the South and among students.

The election of Senator Tower of Texas represents a victory for Goldwater who supported Tower, but even more because they represent identical points of view.

The weakness of the Republican Party since the defeat of Herbert Hoover in 1932 has been that it has labored hard to win without a program. Alf Landon, Wendell Willkie, Thomas E. Dewey represented, in the Re-

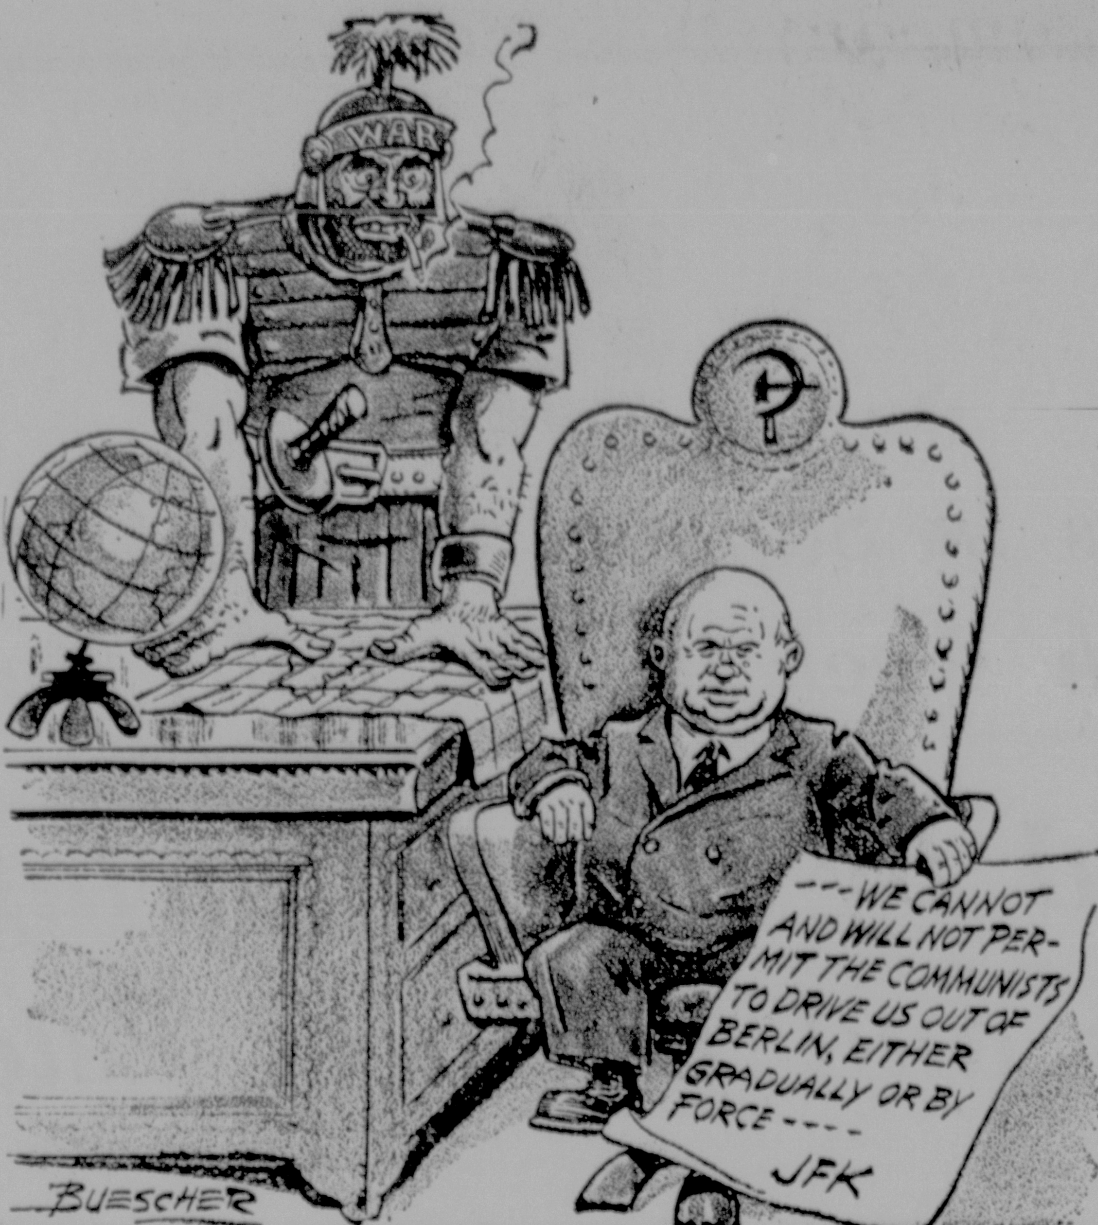

This promise of solidarity should serve a number of vital purposes. It should: (1) stiffen the free world's attitude (2) discourage the so-called neutral nations from falling into the Red camp; (3) convince Premier Khrushchev that he cannot bluff us into surrendering Berlin without a fight, and (4) at least delay his timetable for plucking off, one by one, the nations that have dared to resist Communism.

How well we succeed in achieving these results will depend upon our own and our allies' ability and willingness to meet any new moves made by Mr. Khrushchev to stir up world tensions.

He most certainly will not accept Allied unity and determination as a permanent barrier to his aims for world domination. He must be stopped cold in any steps he may take short of negotiations for peaceful settlement of the issues.

As President Kennedy pointed out, the proposals he outlined demand personal sacrifices on the part of all Americans. For some, it will mean the interruption of a civilian career to serve in the Armed Forces; for others, it will call for the sharing of a greater tax burden to finance the increased military budget.

Neither of these sacrifices, or others that may be necessary, will be easy to accept, but we are confident Americans will make them now that they have been awakened to the real dangers and simultaneously united behind the President's course of action leading, we hope and pray, to our own security and eventual world peace.

What Do You Want Me To Do, Boss?

Reds Outsmarted Us

Isolated Berlin

Why did the Allies agree to put Berlin 110 miles inside the Soviet occupation zone of Germany in the Sept. 12, 1944, London agreement?

Stuart Chase, writer and resident of Redding, Conn., said in a letter printed in the New York Times July 9, "A 12-year-old boy, after one look at the map, would have rejected any such monstrous arrangement."

And yet, our diplomats negotiated it, our military leaders did nothing to avoid it, and President Roosevelt approved it at Yalta in February, 1945.

Rejected Maps

Two maps play a frustrating part in the story of the Allied division of Germany.

1. Philip Mosely, political adviser at the London conferences, has written that the War Department presented "a small-scale map of Germany on which pencilled lines radiating north, west and south from Berlin had been sketched, explaining that this division represented President Roosevelt's instructions."

This map, which would have placed Berlin at the meeting point of the occupation zones, not inside the Russian zone, was rejected by our Allies because it cut across communication and boundary lines.

2. Mosely also reported that John G. Winant, our ambassador to London, prepared a map which included corridors from West Berlin to the Western zones as part of those zones. This proposal was never acted upon in Washington.

In April, 1945, U. S. troops halted at the Elbe River inside the Soviet zone, allowing the Russians to take Berlin. In May the war ended.

On July 4, 1945, Allied troops occupied their sectors of Berlin, and withdrew from the Soviet zone of occupation, which is now Communist East Germany.

Gen. Lucius Clay later wrote in "Decision in Germany" (1950), "I think now that I was mistaken in not at this time making free access to Berlin a condition to our withdrawal . . ."

Access Routes

Failure to do so has plagued us ever since.

Although Ambassador Winant urged our government to get detailed provisions safeguarding American access by rail, road and air to Berlin into the 1944 London agreement, they were not presented to Russia and not included in the final treaty.

Mosely wrote that the War Department "showed no particular interest in access routes." (Foreign Affairs magazine, July, 1950).

He also said, "I believed that the dignity and security of the American authorities to be installed eventually in Berlin required that provision be made in advance for free and direct territorial access to Berlin from the West."

During the London conference the Russians did agree orally to the principle, cited in the U. S. note to Russia, July 17, that "rights of access to Berlin are inherent in the rights of the Western powers to be in Berlin."

But agreements with the Russians on specific road, rail, water and air rights of way were left to be made in discussions between the military commanders in Berlin.

To this day our strongest written guarantee of access to Berlin is the Air Corridors Agreement (Nov. 30, 1945) and our rail, road and water routes are vulnerable.

Sam Block, the veteran news dealer of Stroudsburg, is on the sick list. Sam is in Monroe County General Hospital following a heart attack.

We know many of his friends would like to send him get well cards. He's in Room 223.

Flossie Steele, East Stroudsburg's most ardent booster of anything from A to Z, wanted to see her favorite Babe Ruth team in action the other night.

She figured Line Material's nine was cavorting in Stroudsburg. However, arriving at Gordon Giffels she learned they were playing in the town she had just left.

This didn't stop our Flossie. She watched a few innings at Giffels, and saw part of another tilt at Lim's Field, Stroudsburg. She plans to see Line Material plenty of times later.

That's the mark of a good fan. One who supports all the teams although her heart belongs to one.

Natalie Eschenbach is keeping the vacation resort owners informed daily of the happenings in the area and news from the outside.

Nat's biggest dish this week was to help promote the All-Star TV Golf Show at Pocono Manor in August.

Already she has typed up the dope, concerning the biggest shot in the arm golf has received area-wide.

The Stroudsburg resident must enjoy her work. She practically says so between the lines of her exuberant releases.

Oldtimers say the weather is cool compared to some scorchers years ago.

Could be. But until something hotter comes along we'll go along with this spell as the one that makes fat ones breathe heavier and perspire more.

We ought to know. We're in the Sidne, Greenstreet category.

About Town

—By Gene Brown

It wouldn't be so bad if your take-home pay stayed there.

At a crowded airport recently, we noticed a gentleman busily fitting quarters into the machine that automatically issues $5,000 insurance policies. Unable to resist our curiosity, we strolled over and struck up a conversation with the young man. Finally we broached the delicate subject. "You must be very scared of planes," we said, staring at the fistful of $5,000 policies.

"No," said the young gentleman. "I always do this when I fly. I send $5,000 insurance policies to each of my girls, listing her as my sole heir. You'd be surprised how that cements relationships."

Ruth: I'm forgetting men. Betty: So am I. Where'll we get them?

Berlin Report

We Must Hold City

Some Americans feel that Berlin is a dangerous nuisance — not worth a war.

But while we are continually losing ground to Communism in other parts of the world, we are doing great damage to the Communist regime in East Germany by our presence in Berlin.

The Communists have said so themselves. Khrushchev calls West Berlin "a bone in our throats." East German chief Walter Ulbricht thunders against our reception of the 200,000 annual refugees who have "voted with their feet" against his "Democratic" Republic.

What better proof is there that West Berlin is an asset and not a liability to the West?

We should not underestimate the effect on East Germany of the constant loss of skilled workers and professional people, half of whom are the productive 17 to 45 years old.

We are threatening the solidarity of the whole Communist satellite system in Europe by keeping this big hole in the Iron Curtain open.

We are on the offensive, then, by staying in Berlin. And we are there under agreements and treaties signed by Russia. As President Kennedy said last Wednesday in his news conference, we have an "irrefutable legal, moral, and political position" in Berlin.

But we must hold Berlin for broader purposes.

Berlin is the only spot in the world where we face Russia directly. We have been fighting other Communists and agents of Russian Communism in Laos, Cuba, Quemoy and Matsu, and earlier in Korea.

But Russia is directly involved by numerous treaties and agreements in Berlin. In the London agreement of September, 1945, Russia agreed to govern all of Berlin "jointly" with the Allies. At Potsdam, Russia agreed to treat occupied Germany as one nation and to foster democratic government with the freedom of press, speech and religion that are now unknown in Germany.

Russia signed these agreements. We signed these agreements. The present Russian threat of "unilateral action" in signing a separate peace treaty with East Germany which the Communists claim would make our agreement "null and void," is therefore a direct attack on American rights in Berlin.

We are not defending Berlin alone. We are defending our own legal rights. The Russian attack on these rights gives the Berlin crisis its wider significance.

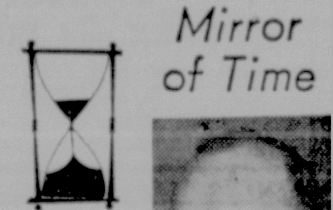

There is also the question of our regard for human beings.

It would be an act of betrayal for us to desert the 2,300,000 people in West Berlin. Henry A. Kissinger, the influential military analyst, said in his book "The Necessity For Choice," that "the uncommitted would come to believe that the protection of the West is illusory . . . if we abandon Berlin."

That is what Western leaders are talking about when they say that Berlin is a "symbol" of our determination to protect and encourage freedom throughout the world.

The reason why Berlin, 11 miles inside Communist territory, is difficult to supply and impossible to defend against direct military attack is also the reason why it is valuable to us.

It stands surrounded by Communism, a city of freedom, visible and successful alternative to Communism.

10 Years Ago

An Atlantic City couple were injured when their car overturned after running off the road near Portland. The woman was pinned beneath the car for more than 20 minutes before she could be released.

Four cars were involved in a chain reaction accident near Marshalls Creek when the first car stopped to avoid hitting a dog that was crossing the highway. Damage was minor to the cars and no one was injured, not even the dog.

Harold Storm was crowned the winner of the Glen Brook Tournament.

Readers defeated Barrett 3-2 when they came across with two runs in the bottom of the eighth inning.

Russia reported the blitz was broken but the Germans continued to predict a victory for them.

How many remember in 1921 when there was a $3,850 racing purse posted at the Stroudsburg Fair?

Threats To Berlin

1. Khrushchev demands that we sign peace treaties with "the two German states," thus confirming their division and recognizing East Germany.

2. If we do not, he will sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany and turn over control of Allied military traffic to Berlin to East Germany which now controls all civilian access.

3. Khrushchev claims that his separate peace treaty will make all agreements on Berlin and Germany "null and void."

4. West Berlin will then be made a "free demilitarized city," and will eventually become part of East Germany, come part of East Germany.

5. The 11,000-man British, French and American garrison must leave Berlin.

6. Russia will back East Germany with force. There are 22 Soviet and six East German divisions in East Germany, with 1,205 tanks within 30 miles of Berlin and nuclear weapons.

7. East Germans want control of all flights in and out of Berlin, and all passenger lists. Russia threatens to give East Germany its seat on the four-power Air Safety Center which controls Berlin flights.

8. East Germans want to close Tempelhof Airport in American sector of Berlin to stop refugee escape to West Germany.

9. The West expects a series of harassments of civilian and military traffic to West Berlin, short of a blockade.

When Eisenhower ceased to be President, the Republican Party was left without leadership although there were aspirants to leadership. Richard Nixon was entitled to be the titular head of the party but such a distinction is nominal unless its claimant is a particularly strong personality.

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York claims leadership by virtue of his insistent public relations and his limitless treasury. Somehow he does not click.

Barry Goldwater asserts and maintains leadership because he represents ideas for which there is an increasing popularity in the country. That does not mean that Goldwater will be nominated in 1964.

The influence that made Wendell Willkie a Republican candidate may be sufficiently strong to choose someone else. But the ideas of the Republican Party are liable to be better organized and clearer to understand. They will be Barry Goldwater's ideas, no matter who is nominated.

Criticized For Defense Note

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., has denounced a Senate colleague's memorandum to the Defense Department as "a dastardly attempt to intimidate the commanders of U.S. armed forces."

Thurmond made his statement at a news conference called after Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark. said he had sent Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara a confidential memorandum objecting to military sponsorship of meetings featuring "extremist speeches" by outsiders.

"The point I wanted to make," Fulbright told reporters, "was that it is not the traditional role of the military to sponsor meetings weighted to one side of a political subject."

Fulbright said the principal theme of some meetings sponsored by generals and admirals has been "that the greatest danger to this country is internal communism, and that communism has infiltrated our schools and our churches and dominates our government."

Thurmond termed the memo, which was followed by new Defense Department restrictions on speeches by top military men, an effort to prevent U.S. commanders from teaching their troops "the nature of the menace of world communism."

Thurmond is a major general in the Army reserve. "In the Defense Department among military personnel lies the real bastion of knowledge and understanding of the Communist threat, an understanding and knowledge long since lacking in the White House, the State Department and other agencies of the national government, if we are to judge by their actions," he said.

"Suppression of the military's dissemination of this knowledge would be disastrous."

Interview: 3 To 1 For Timeliness Of President

Question: Do you think President Kennedy has taken the right action at the right time?

FRED HESS, Henryville — Yes, it's time for a showdown with Russia. I have four sons and some grandsons that will have to fight if there is a war. I don't want to see them or any other sons go but I feel that we should not let happen again which did in late 1941.

20-Year Daddy Allen Anniversary

THE PENNSYLVANIA Society for Crippled Children and adults, Inc. will mark 20 years of camping for crippled children at Camp Daddy Allen with ceremonies at the camp tomorrow.

Located in Hickory Run State Park, the camp opened in 1941. It was named for Edgar F. Allen, founder of the crippled children society movement in America. The society leases the camp from the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters.

Monroe County Crippled Children's Society participates in the program. They sent four children there this year.

Edward Moore, Harrisburg, one of the first campers at Camp Daddy Allen, will present a plaque to the Department in appreciation of their cooperation over the years, according to Justin Bergman, Kingston, chairman of the anniversary celebration.

Bergman is also president of the Wyoming Valley Crippled Children's Association, Inc., and a vice president of the Pennsylvania Society.

A presentation will also be made to Mrs. Frank B. Allen, daughter-in-law of "Daddy" Allen, a member of the Pennsylvania Society board and one of the organizers of the camp and the Easter Seal camping program. Also to be honored are Fred Weaver, Lansford, president of the Carbon County Society for Crippled Children and chairman of the Camp Daddy Allen Committee; and Fred Weibel, Allentown, long active at the camp and with the Easter Seal Society movement.

Also on hand will be the four directors of the camp since its opening — George E. Reimer, now executive director of the Pennsylvania Society; T. Henry Jablonski, president, Washington College Academy, Tennessee; Miss Jeanne E. Feeley, now director of camping and recreation for the Pennsylvania Society; and the current director, John Koshuta.

A singing program will be given by the children at camp, and tours of the camp facilities will be arranged.

Just Between Us—

By Bobby Westbrook

It's a good thing I didn't have a fat wallet when I visited the Craftsman's Show—good for the budget, anyway, because there were so many things I wanted.

The more mechanized we become, the more treasured handmade things seem to be. The minute variations and flaws gain value in a world where mass-produced perfection tends to pall. We've come a long way since the short time ago when homespun was a necessity, and a "thoughtless" rug was more valuable than the kind you braided or cut and sewed "rags" in long strips to be woven down the block.

Haven't had a "rag-cutting bee" in the social notes for a long time, and although we've still got some mighty active quilting groups, their number is getting fewer every year and most of them have orders piled up to last all winter.

While weaving, pottery and ceramic or enameled jewelry and handmade cards seem to be the most popular crafts—there were some brand new to me. I was fascinated with the stained glass display for instance — and the jewelry made of metalized leaves.

Leather and wood always fascinate me, too, so it was hard to leave without buying anything at all. If there is such a thing as mental shop-lifting, I'm guilty, however, because I did come away with some wonderful ideas for Christmas presents I could make.

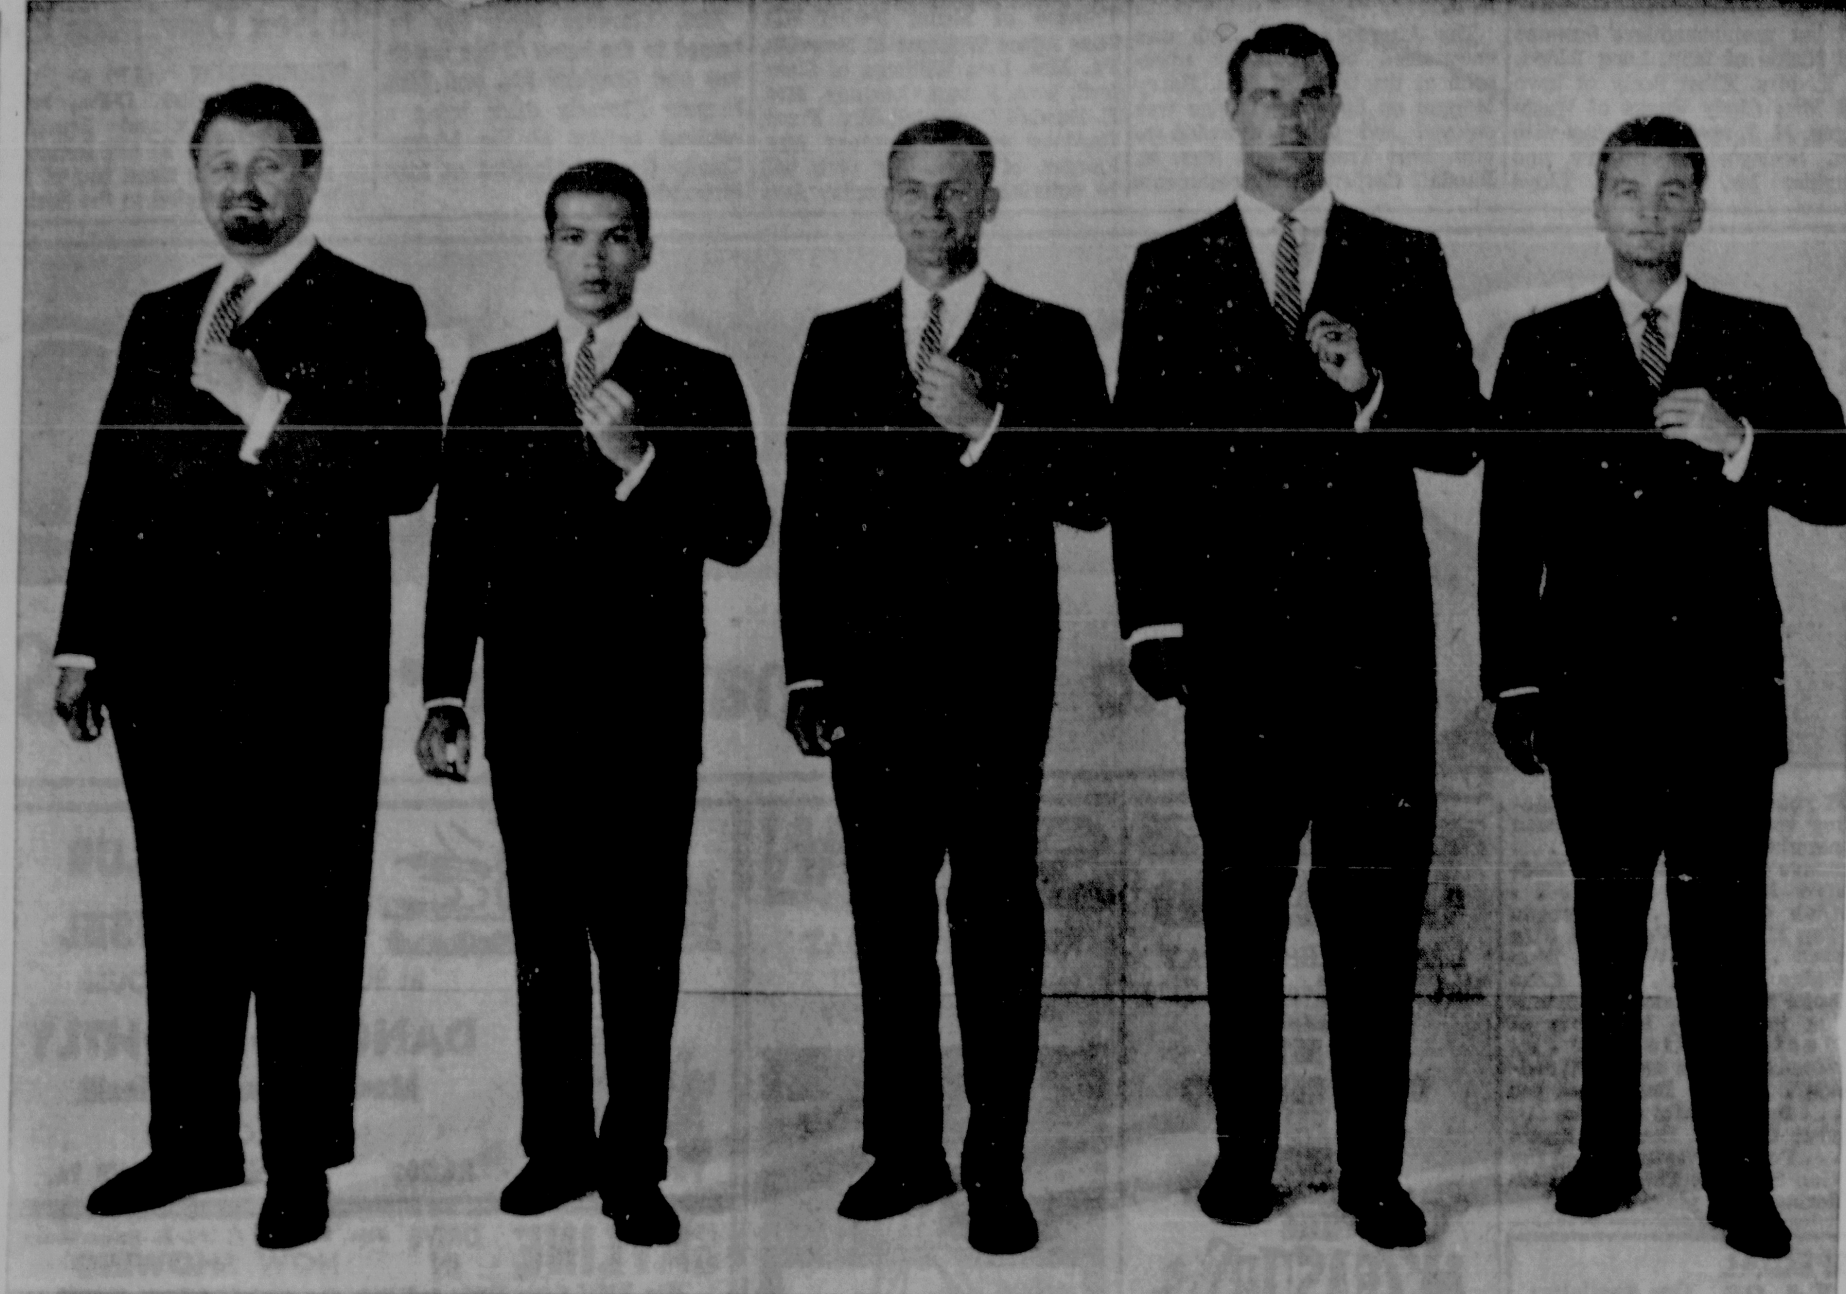

Today's the last day of the show, and if you like things that are different, I'd advise you to go. I'd go again myself if it wasn't that today was the day I promised myself to do some handwork of my own which involves certain mechanical contrivances like vacuum cleaners and scrub brushes.

It's a great year for spiders, that I know, but I've been so enchanted with Mrs. Acker's story about the little girl who ended her bed-time prayer in a hurry to ask her mother, "Why can't we have lace on our ceiling like Aunt Lil?" that I've been using it as an excuse ever since.

Certain kinds of handwork just never does seem fascinating somehow.

LONG AND THIN—blue blazer with metallic buttons and pleated slacks emphasize the fact that the tall, lean type does not have to have the growing-out-of-his clothes look. Note the matching polka dotted ascot and pocket handkerchief.

Men's Fashions Emphasize Tailoring Sizing Science

Reality seems to have found an entering wedge in the high fashion scene ordinarily dominated by the tall and willowy shape of the models who display the clothes. In the hair-stylists shows, models were all white or grey-haired, and with the type of figure often described as "matronly."

During the Press Week showings, it was also recognized that men, too, come in a variety of sizes. In the breakfast presentation of the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear, an auxiliary member of the New York Couture Group, hit of the show was what is known in the trade as "50 regular stout."

Bert Bacharach conducted the commentary for the show and paid tribute to the industry for the tailoring and technologic advances that have made wearables for every-sized figure possible.

As an illustration of the development of the "sizing science," business, formal and sports wear was displayed not only by the traditional fashion show war-horse, the well-built and handsome "40 regular" but also by men more nearly matching the sizes men come in.

"There is no such thing as an 'average' size," Bacharach noted. "We are all blessed with individual personalities and unique appearances. To put it less mellifluously, some guys are fat, some guys are short and some guys are tall or thin. These make up the bulk of male-kind. But one thing they can do; put their clothes to work for them."

A lot of the old cautions about what men or may not wear have been discarded in the face of improvements in fabrics, styles and tailoring, he pointed out.

Gone is the time when the heavy-set man wore only striped suits; when the double-breasted suit purportedly hid the protruding pouch, or single-breasted suits with shoulder padding and tapered waists were supposed to add heft to the slight man.

The Stout Man

In today's male fashion world, the stout man should obviously avoid screaming colors and very bold patterned effects, but smoother types of fabrics and subdued plaids look well. As part of the illusion, the gorge of the suit is placed high with the single-breasted suit best for accentuating height and jackets on the longer side.

Trousers, tapered, pleated and without cuffs, tend to minimize weight. As for hats, the tapered crown with the medium brim does the best job.

The Long Man

American men are tall and growing taller, and the tall man tends to be on the slim side. The horizontal line provides for an impression of breadth with the double-breasted suit or the long single-breasted model in a plaid or overplaid fabric. In sports jackets, the bulkier look is achieved in the great variety of tweeds.

The tall man looks well in hats with low crowns and brims somewhat proportioned.

The spread collared shirt with the crocheted tie is perfect for broadening.

The Short Man

The little man can now literally pick himself up by the bootstraps through his clothing. Clothes which emphasize the up and down make a man look taller. Suit jackets should have the vertical in view and give shoulders a squared look. He should try a two or three-button single-breasted suit or a double-breasted suit with the lapel rolling to the lower button.

To emphasize the vertical line of the tie, a short man should wear tapered cuffless trousers.

Hats are also a great heightener.

short, 40 regular, 44 extra long and 37 long. Note striped rep tie and polka dot pocket kerchief. For both the stout man and the short man, the commentator advised cuffless trousers.

Gadget Fans Can Find 'Em At The Fair

By Edward S. Kitch

Chicago (AP) — Battery-operated scouring machines, vibrating carving knives and clips that may outmode diaper pins are in the offing for American homemakers.

These were among the thousands of kitchen gadget and household items displayed by the National Housewares Manufacturers Association here recently.

They will be available this fall when the orders of the more than 30,000 buyers attending the show reach retail store shelves.

Apparently the backyard chef still is an institution. Houseware producers have him very much in mind in many new charcoal broilers of many designs — motorized spits and all.

One of the newest chef aids is a cordless motorized carving knife.

The portable cutting, slicing and carving appliance is powered by two flashlight batteries. A pressed button causes the knife to vibrate as it cuts with ease and without hacking.

Washing Panes

Washing outside windows now is one step from washing a car. A new attachment for a garden hose is fitted with a revolving scrub brush, a squeegee and a pistol-grip container for detergent. Dial controls on the grip enable changes from suds to clear water. Its handle extends from two to four feet.

"There'll be no more safety pins for diapers," predicts Earl Fisher, head of a plastic housewares firm in Columbus, Ohio.

Baby Stuck Up?

Fisher displayed a tiny stainless steel clip that he says will displace the old-fashioned safety pin.

The fly and his destruction now is the concern of a new swinging Sputnik device filled with an insecticide that soaks through a wick. When Mr. Fly orbits to the wick and touches it, he goes away and dies.

Garden suppliers searching for new gadgets find one in an electronic instrument that scientifically measures the needs of plant life for moisture. The meter is inserted into the soil and the presence of moisture generates an electrical current that operates a pointer to indicate wet, moist and dry conditions.

Folding Rocker

President Kennedy's enthusiasm for a rocking chair has brought forth a new folding rocker for home and patio. It is made of square aluminum frame and redwood slats.

American Designer Scores

By NADEANE WALKER

Paris (AP) — Former New York designer Miguel Ferreras, who bills himself as the first American to crash Paris high fashion with his own house since Mainbocher, got a warm reception at his debut Friday.

Sheath dresses with unfitted waistlines were the main daytime idea, with high-waisted Empire sheaths and princess dresses fitted only on the bosom for evening. But the newest thing in the show was round-toed shoes, to make feet look small again.

Fitted suits had short bolero jackets or capes dipping in the back. Other classic suit jackets had little round fur collars. There were Empire-bosomed princess coats, and many squared-out, scarf-filled necklines. Ferreras followed the rest with skirts covering the knees. Many of his dresses had tiny cut-in-ones eaves just covering the top of the arm.

In honor of his Irish wife, the new designer made clear green a leading color for his collection. There were also rusty golds, clear yellow, bright orange, blue, and snuff and tobacco browns, as well as black. Many of his plaids were red and green.

Some coats had brief shoulder capes. Several dresses were drawn in just in front with an arched horse show seam or string midway between waist and knee. Cocktail Empire style had bare backs with gathered skirts under a high obi back belt.

Lanvin earlier led with cowl-draped bosoms on fitted sheaths. Some of these, with fur cowls, resembled a pelican's pouch.

Channel as usual showed the little suits that are her unchanging trademark. Her only innovation was blouse-matching bindings.

Bolt Out With Back Trouble

CHICAGO (AP)—Tommy Bolt, explosive-tempered former U.S. Open champion, quit in Friday's second round of the national PGA tourney because of muscle spasms in his back.

Bolt, who reached a peak in 1958 by winning the National Open, virtually gave up his Ryder Cup Team chances by his withdrawal.

The lantern-jawed bolt shot a 72 Thursday and Friday was four over par after five holes when he threw in the sponge.

Brumel Given Sports Medal

MOSCOW (AP)—Valeri Brumel, Russia's high jumping ace, has been awarded the title of "Merited Master of Sports of the USSR," the highest distinction in Soviet Athletics.

The 19-year-old bested John Thomas of Boston in the Rome Olympics, three times last winter in Madison Square Garden and again in the recent United States-Russian meet, in which Brumel cleared 7 feet, 4 inches. It is the highest ever cleared officially out-of-doors.

'Useful' Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall said Thursday he had had "a very useful discussion" with Pete Rozelle, the National Football League commissioner.

He declined further comment on his half-hour talk Wednesday with Rozelle, who was not available for interview.

Udall has demanded several times that the Washington Redskins pro football team conform to the anti-discrimination policies of the Kennedy administration.

Unlike other teams in the league, the Washington team has never hired a Negro player.

The team has a contract to start playing its home games this fall in a new stadium being constructed with federal aid in an area under jurisdiction of the Interior Department's National Capital Parks Unit.

NFL Denied Delay

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A federal judge Friday denied the National Football League's petition asking for a delay in carrying out its previous ruling on the NFL's television contract with the Columbia Broadcasting System in violation of the antitrust law.

Thus, U.S. District Judge Allan K. Grim threw a possible blackout over this fall's $9.3 million TV program of NFL games. The league had a two-year contract with CBS. Under the denial is upset by appeal to higher courts, the NFL clubs will have to negotiate individually for TV contracts.

His ruling could affect other sports TV contracts, such as those of the National Basketball Association and American Football League.

Last year, CBS had nine teams under individual contracts, the National Broadcasting Co. had two and two operated under independent network. The league's 14th club, Minnesota, starts operations this year.

The judge also rejected a second NFL petition asking him to wait until Dec. 31 to have a full hearing on whether his earlier injunction should be modified.

Grim's decision followed by an hour testimony by NFL executives that without package television professional football would cease to exist. The NFL executives said it was necessary to compete with the AFL, which has a package deal with ABC.

Testimony by NFL officials was backed up in court by William MacPhail, Columbia Broadcasting System vice president in charge of sports, who said his network would be forced to drop all but three teams in 1962 unless the package contract was ruled legal.

Joe Donohue, executive vice president of the champion Philadelphia Eagles, said that unless CBS renewed its option with his club in 1962, "we're dead, out of business. In fact without packaged TV all sports as we know them will be out of business within two years."

Tex Schramm, general manager of the Dallas Cowboys, said his team can't exist unless the league is allowed to operate under a package TV contract. A former television executive with CBS before joining to Dallas, Schramm told Judge Allan K. Grim in U.S. District Court that other lower ranked teams would have to give up without television.

At the end of the fifth inning the Flying Nesbitts, veteran trouper, will stage a 20-minute aerial and acrobatic act, and in the seventh the Clowns will present their slow-motion shadowball exhibition, capping the hilarity with a rock 'n' roll led by Green, the Carolina's jitterbug champion.

Weights May Vary 10 Lbs. In Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—Emile Griffith, 22-year-old welterweight champion from the Virgin Islands, may weigh as much as 10 pounds less than Yama Bahama, Bimini Carpenter, when they fight for 10 rounds or less in Madison Square Garden Saturday night.

The bout will be televised nationally (ABC, 9 p.m., EST).

Griffith trained in a tiny uptown New York City gym during the week's heat wave and his weight slid to 145. Bahama, a middleweight, expects to enter the ring between 154 and 155.

Wins Lefty Golf Meet

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Ed Sweetman of Greensboro shot a final round 75 Friday for a 293 total to win the National Association of Lethanded Golfers Amateur Tournament by one stroke over teen-ager Gene Ferrell of Mobile, Ala.

Sweetman, 24-year-old collegian, won the tournament two years ago. His four over par 36-39 today followed earlier rounds of 74-72-72. Ferrell, playing in the same foursome with Sweetman, shot 36-37 after earlier rounds of 75-75-71.

A three-putt green on the 17th hole put Ferrell two strokes down and he cut that margin in half with a par five on the last hole, which Sweetman bogeyed.

Downes, 2 Others Seeking Crown

LONDON (AP)—Terry Downes, Briton who holds one-half of the world middleweight title, was bracketed with two other contenders for Dick Tiger's British empire crown.

Downes, who defeated Paul Pender of Brookline, Mass. for part of the world title in London earlier this month, was linked with Gomeo Brennan (Bahamas) and Wilf Greaves (Canada) as challenger for the empire title.

Downes is to meet Pender in a return fight in the United States in September. If Downes keeps his share of the world crown it is unlikely he will press his claims for an empire title fight.

Birmingham Takes Pa. Tourney

PITTSBURGH (AP)—John Birmingham of Oakland Country Club won the Pennsylvania Amateur Golf Tournament Friday with a 1-up victory over fellow Oaklander Frank Souchak in 19 holes.

Both gained the finals of three-day tourney at the Pittsburgh field club with identical 2 and 1 victories in the morning round.

Souchak stopped Dick Stephens of Oakland and Birmingham ousted Jack McGuire of Wanango Country Club, near Franklin.

Birmingham, 21, defeated the 47-year-old Souchak after a tenacious uphill battle in the 48th annual event.

Losing the first three holes, Birmingham was never up on his clubmate until he won the extra hole with a par four to Souchak's five.

Both players won five holes and halved eight over the regulation distance.

Souchak topped his drive on the extra hole. He needed three strokes to hit the apron 30 feet from the pin, and then two-putted. Birmingham hit a 320-yard drive and was on the green in two and down in two putts.

A former University of Pittsburgh football star, Souchak has been relatively inactive in tournament competition for the past six years.

Souchak never trailed in his match with Stephens. He virtually clinched the victory by almost holing a 50-foot blast from a deep sand trap at the 16th to salvage a par, half the hole, and maintain his 2-up lead. His par at 17 ended it.

With the match between Birmingham and McGuire even after the 14th, Birmingham holed a 10-foot putt for a birdie on the par five 15th, took the 16th with a par and finished the match by holing an eight-foot putt at 17.

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Golfer Ed (Porky) Oliver, described as "pretty shaky" in his battle against cancer, was admitted to Memorial Hospital Wednesday.

Oliver, who has been sick for more than a year, sleeps most of the time, his wife reports. He has undergone two operations in the past year and in May, 1960, was said by doctors to have about four to six months to live.

Amateur Team To Use 'Pros'

NEW YORK (AP)—The American team competing in the 1962 World Amateur Ice Hockey Championships will be bolstered for the first time by players from the Eastern and International leagues.

Tom Lockhart, president of the Amateur Hockey Association of the United States, said Tuesday that, "we're putting on the show and we must finish in the money. This is one way of doing it."

"These leagues do not come under the heading of professional even though the players get from $125 to $150 a week," Lockhart added.

The world tournament will be held in Colorado Springs, Col. March 8-18.
